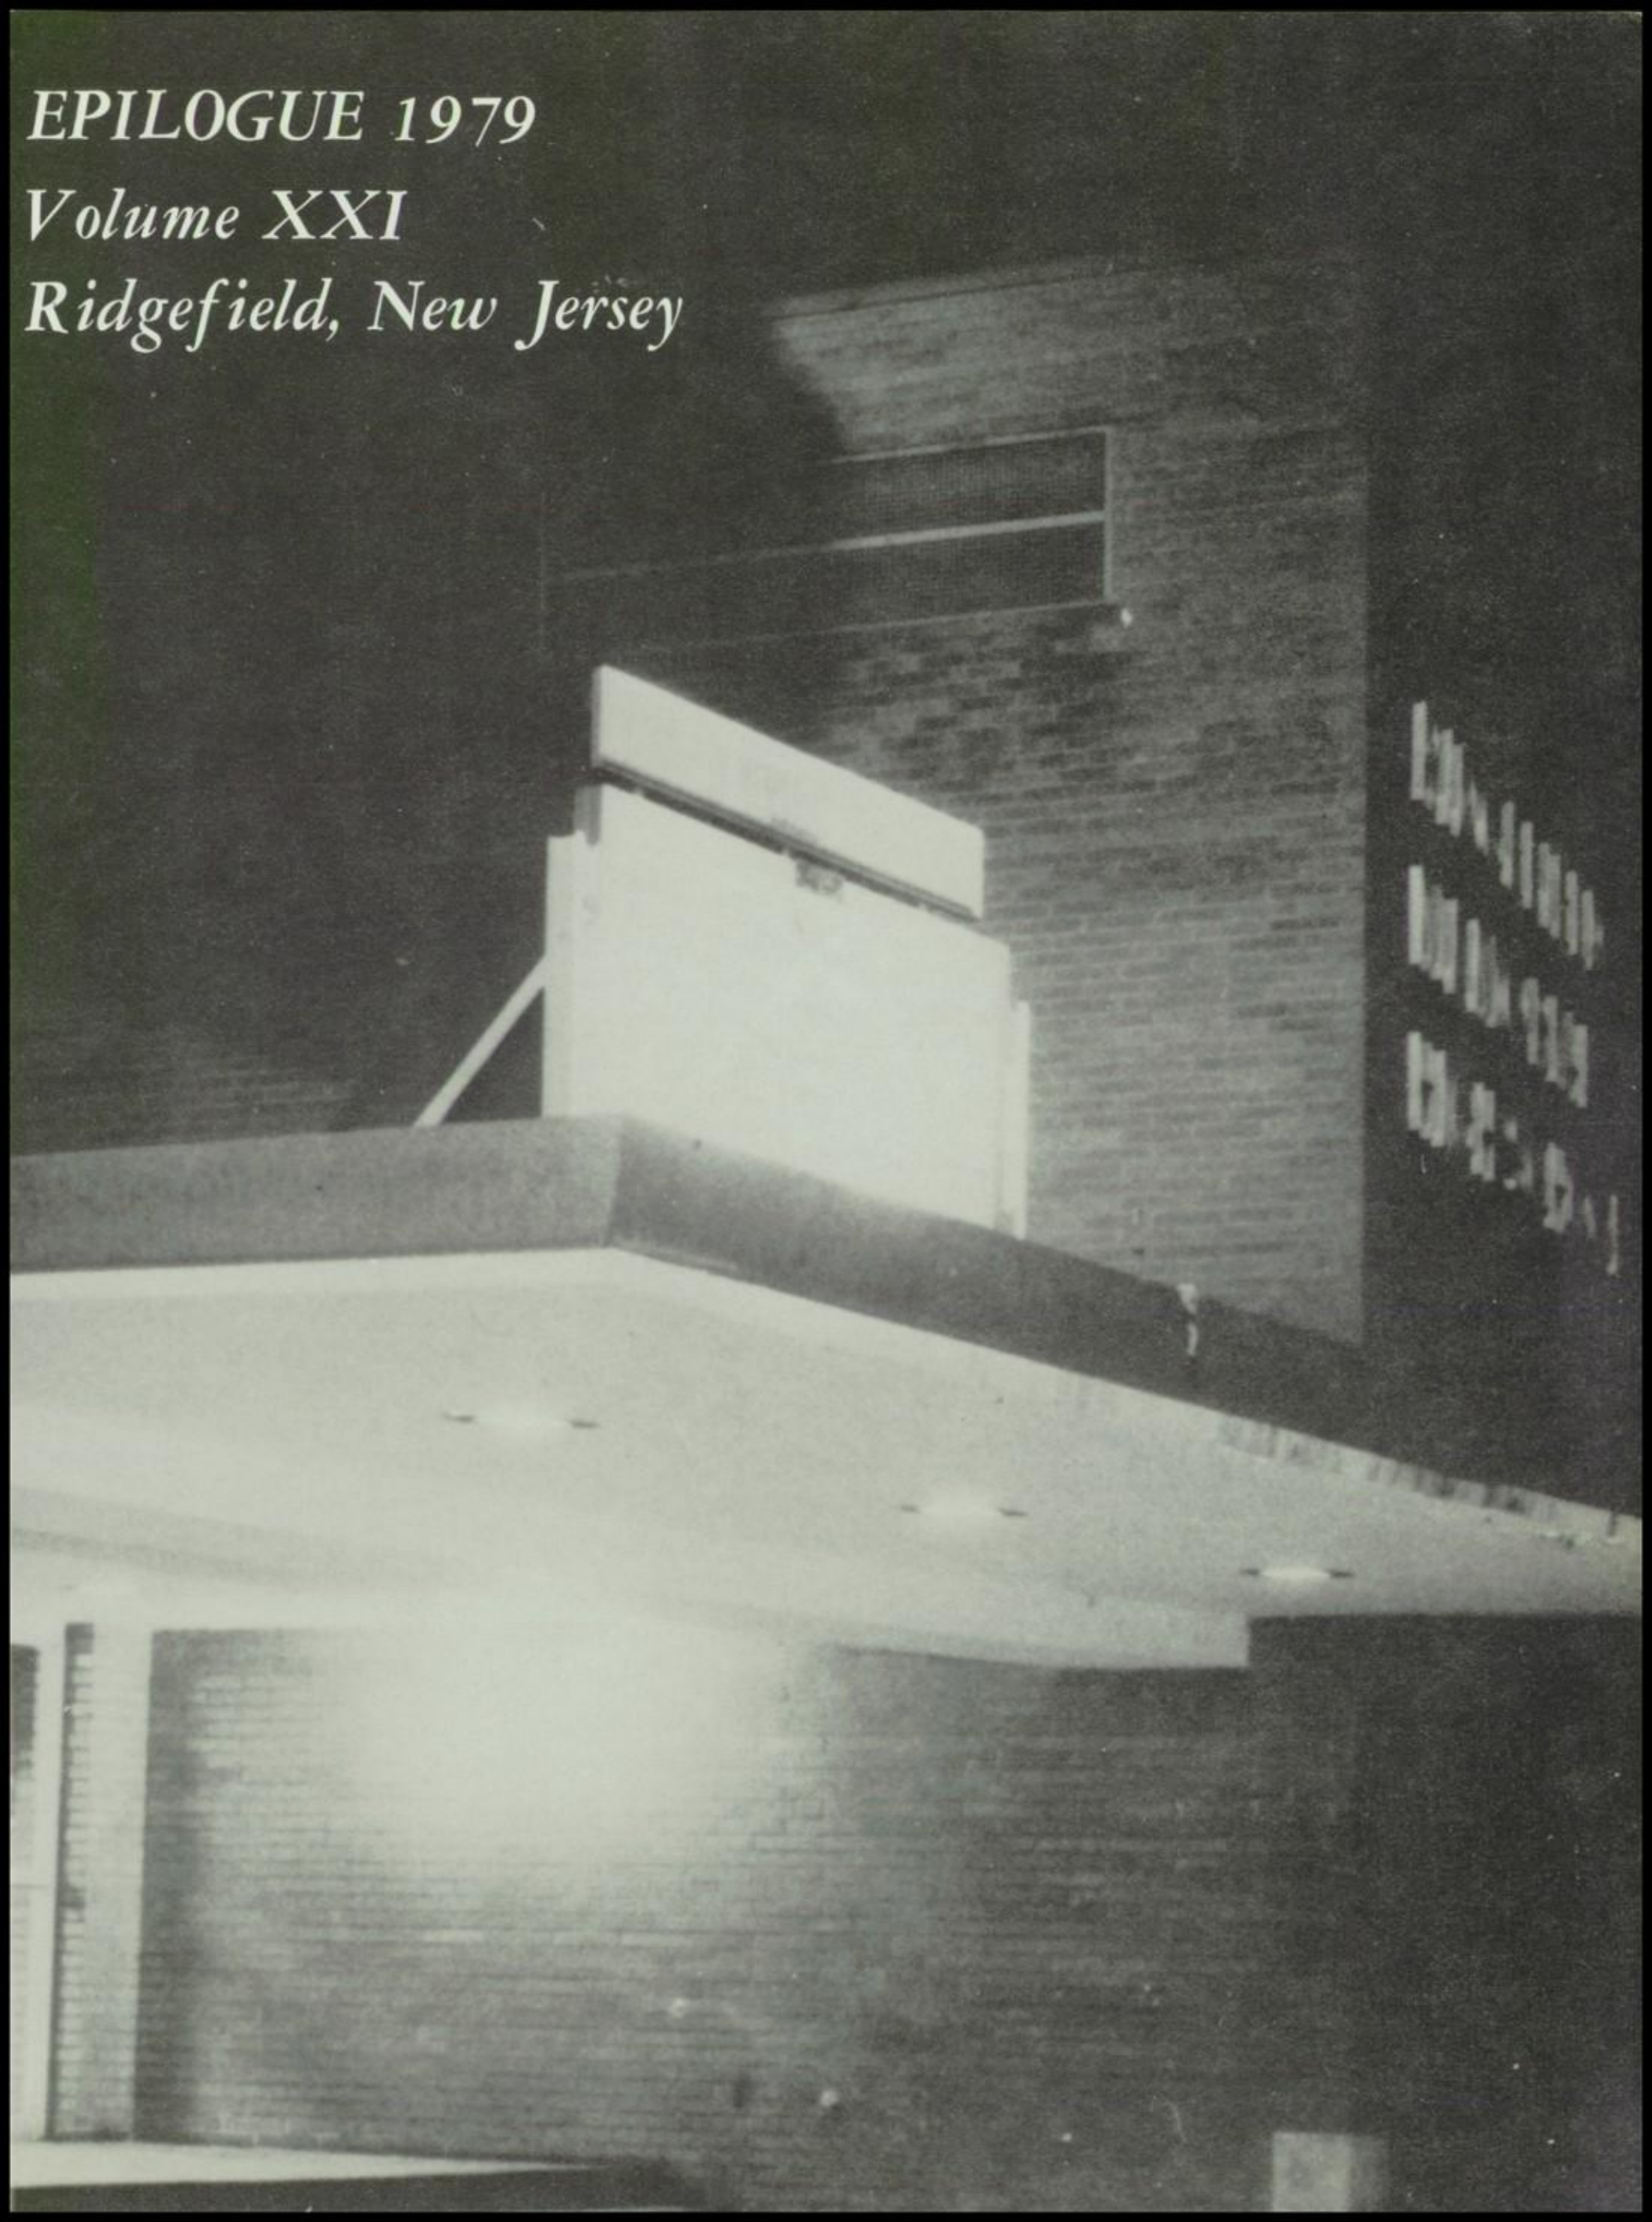
EPILOGUE 1979

Volume XXI

Ridgefield, New Jersey



The Kaleidoscope

In the unpredictable pattern of a kaleidoscope, as freshmen in 1975, we entered R. M. H. S. Each person represented a unique crystal, the hidden facets reflecting latent talent and ingenuity. The hope that one day the colors would brighten, that the future would be less desperate, seemed to be only a dream. In our first year, filled with anxiety, we searched for answers. The colors were scattered on a page, without form. In our sophomore year, the pattern brightened. We found some answers. The kaleidoscope began to turn. Strong friendships were found beneath shimmering surfaces. We revealed our true colors through our friends and teachers. Together, we discovered knowledge. The bits and pieces were attracted, forming an ephemeral profile, as we collaborated with our ever congenial class advisor, Mr. Edward Kelly, whose radiance added unexpected flashes of brilliance to the ever brightening collage representing our progress. Junior year—a time of turmoil, scholastically and socially. Abilities that were hidden surfaced, shimmering with intensity. September 1978—our senior year. We faced new decisions and challenges for the future, the intensities of which forced us into a new brilliance as a graduating class. We worked together. We laughed together. Sometimes, we cried together. The Class of 1979, proud to have participated in a pattern for a new life, says good-bye.

We are individuals, yet we are one. Let us treasure the kaleidoscopic colors of our memories forever. Faced with the new decisions and challenges of the future the anxieties of which forced us into new configurations, we were at last able to fix thé final outline of our high school experiences in the form of this now static kaleidoscope which we offer as the end sheets of our EPILOGUE.

"Once Upon A Mattress" was the lively musical senior play that charmed the audience this year. The seniors, with the aid of many underclassmen, spent months working together in preparation. Learning the many songs, dances, and lines, as well as painting and building scenery and sewing costumes, filled each day for the busy seniors.

The endeavor was perhaps the most fun-filled, unified project of the year. The play sparkled with an array of talent, including strong voices and fine actors and actresses. The vivacious cast made the bubbly musical glow with excitement and success.

Our sincere thanks are extended to our dedicated faculty advisor, Mr. Vincent Steckline.

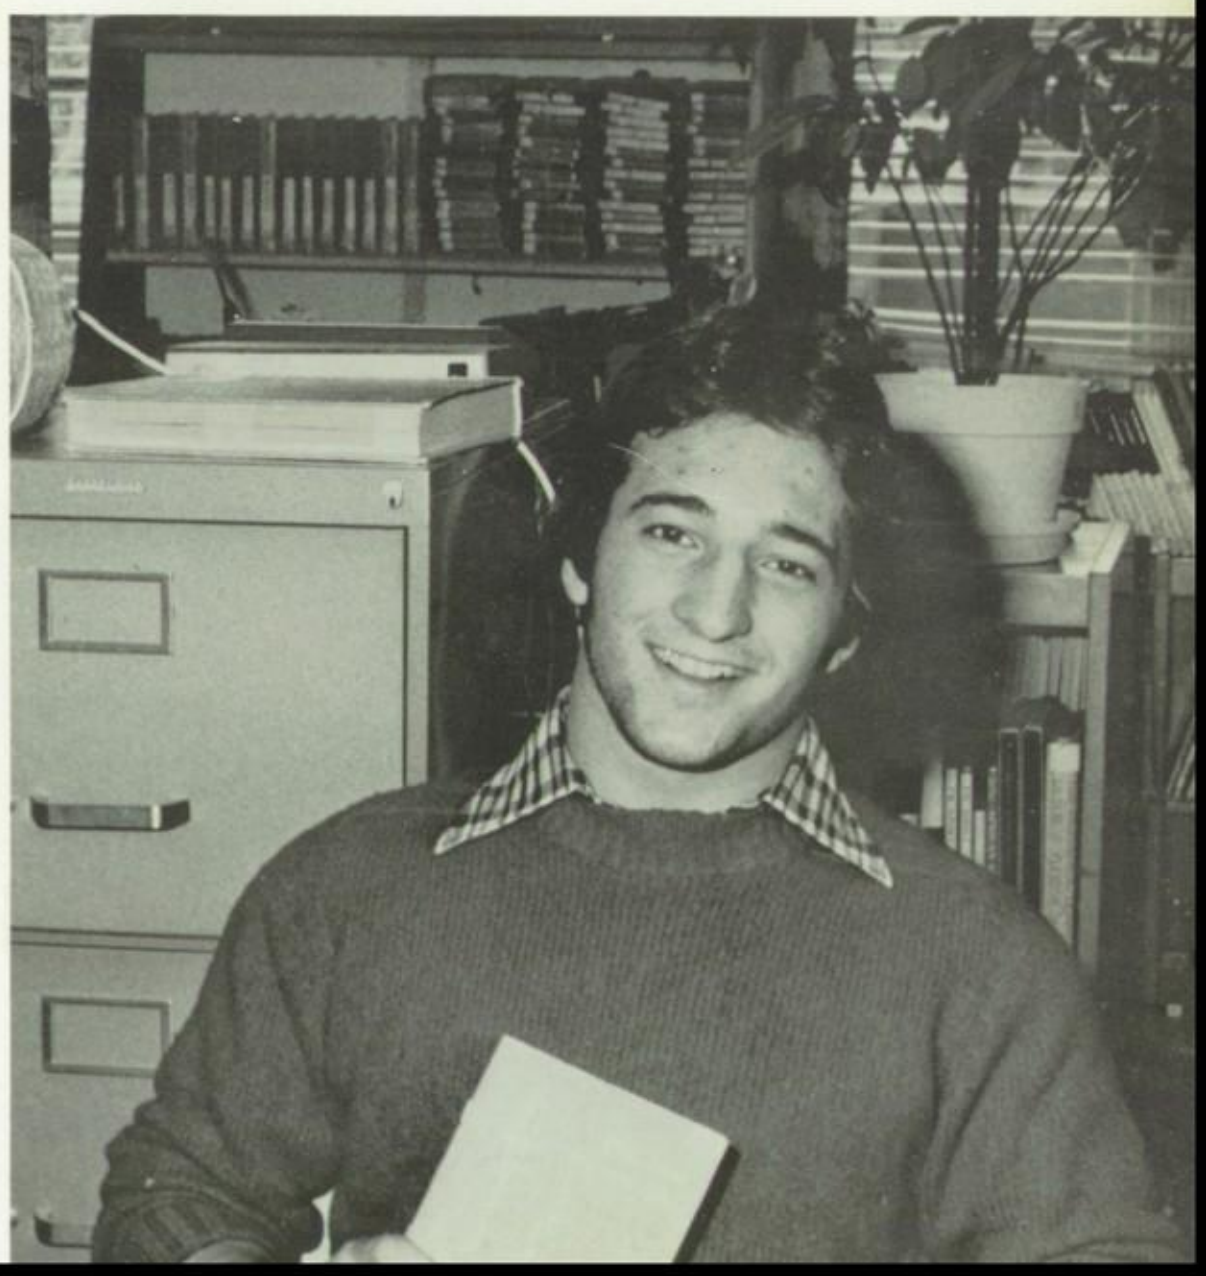
Our own Minnie Mouse.

Watch out Bjorn!

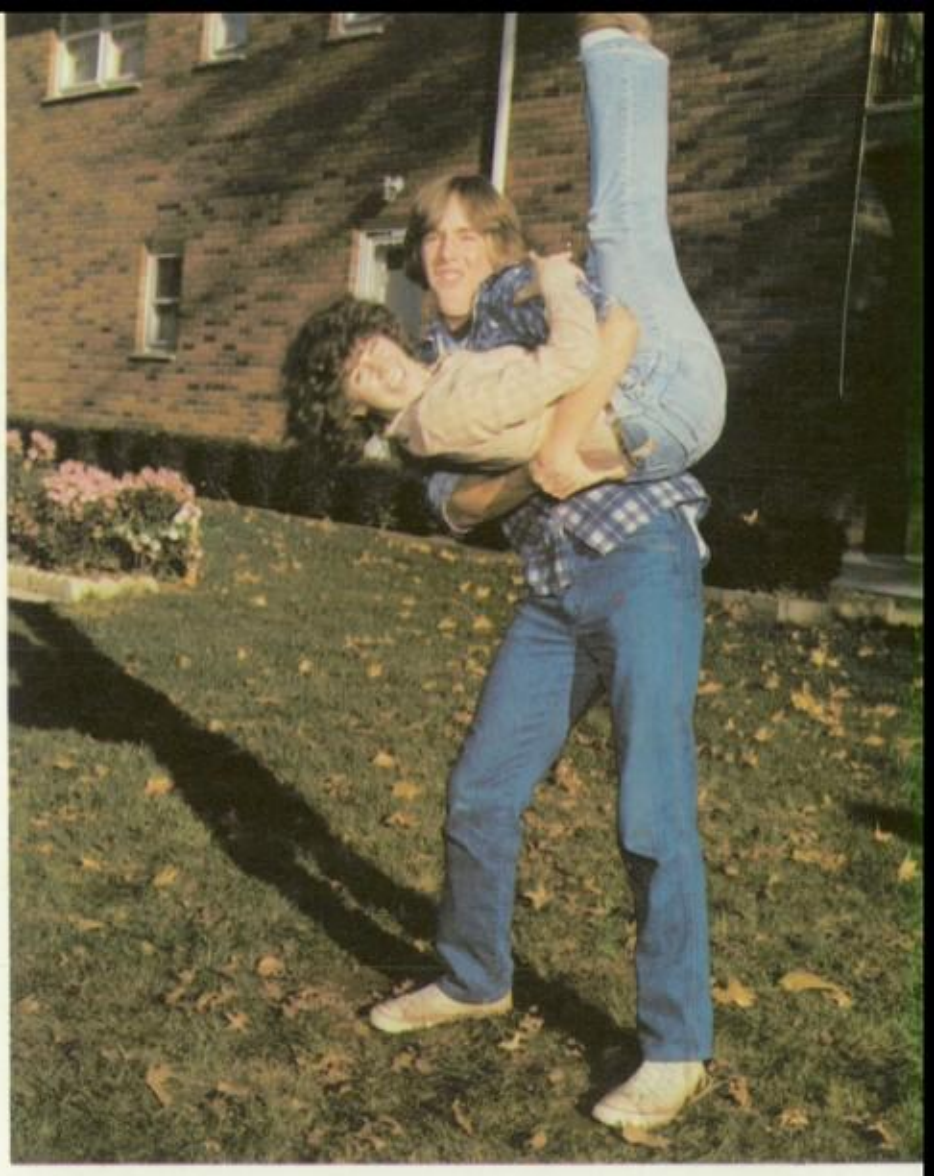
I don't want to hear it.

Who is there?



Think I know the answer?

Mary will you sit down!



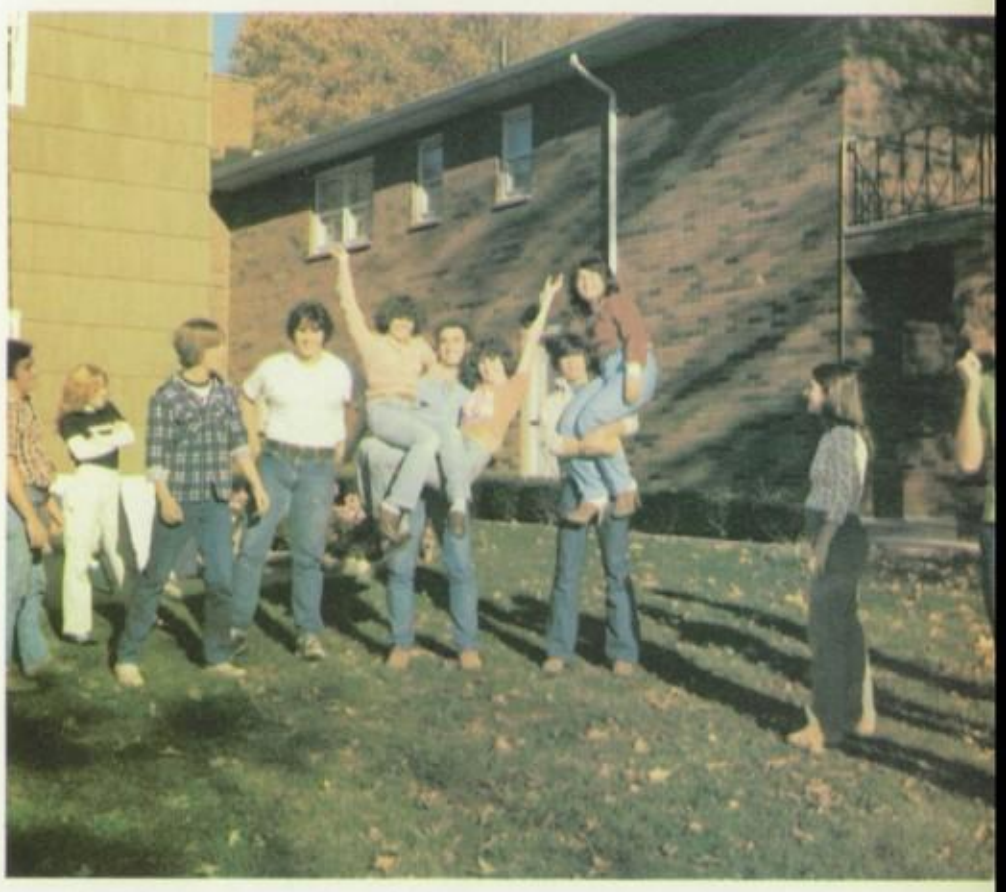
Hey, Deb, ya wanna dip?

When do you get your pilot's license?

Don't worry Mark, I love 'ya!

What fire??

Sue, glad you can smile!



Hold it right there!

Natural Rhythm!

Check it out!

OUR DIRECTOR!

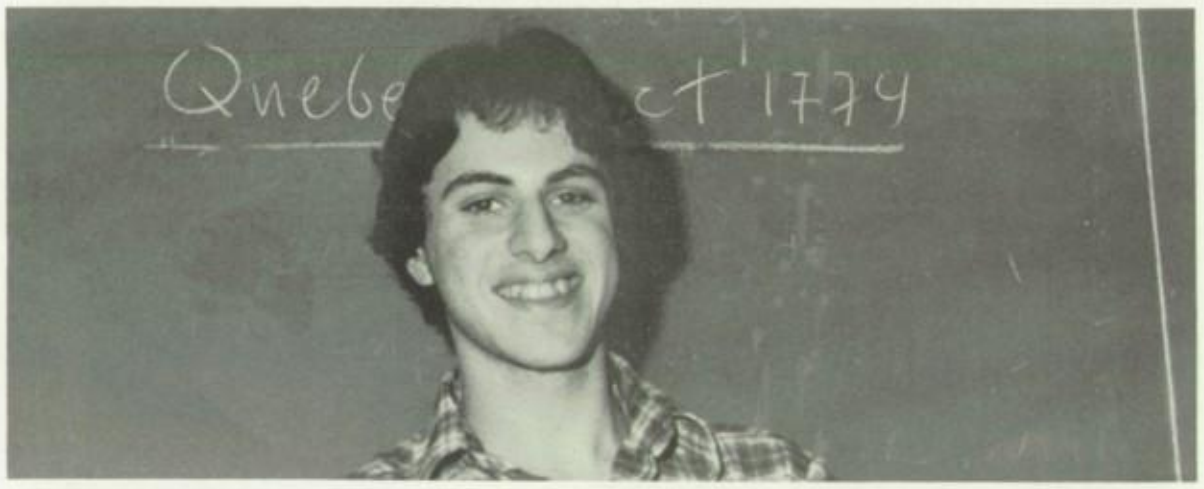
R. M. H. S. today, Wimbledon tomorrow.

The three stooges—Curly, Moe, and Harry.

Oh, look into the camera!

The real Jon Koenigsberg.

Susan, you can't eat the clay.



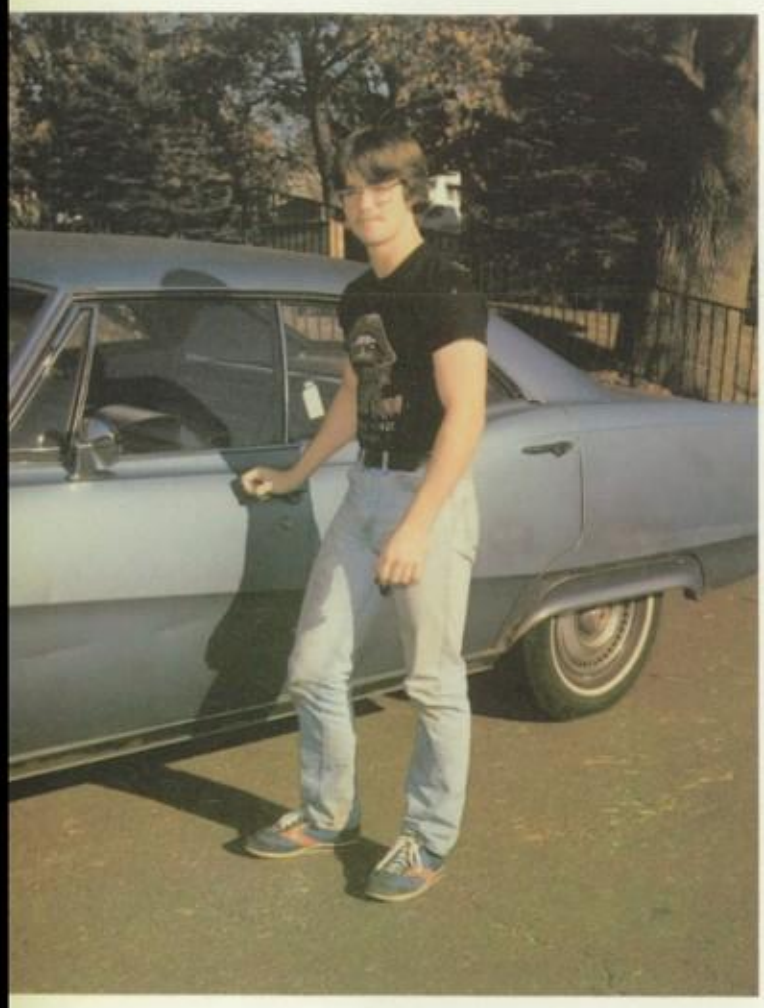
What else can we say?

Don't breathe! It will fall down.

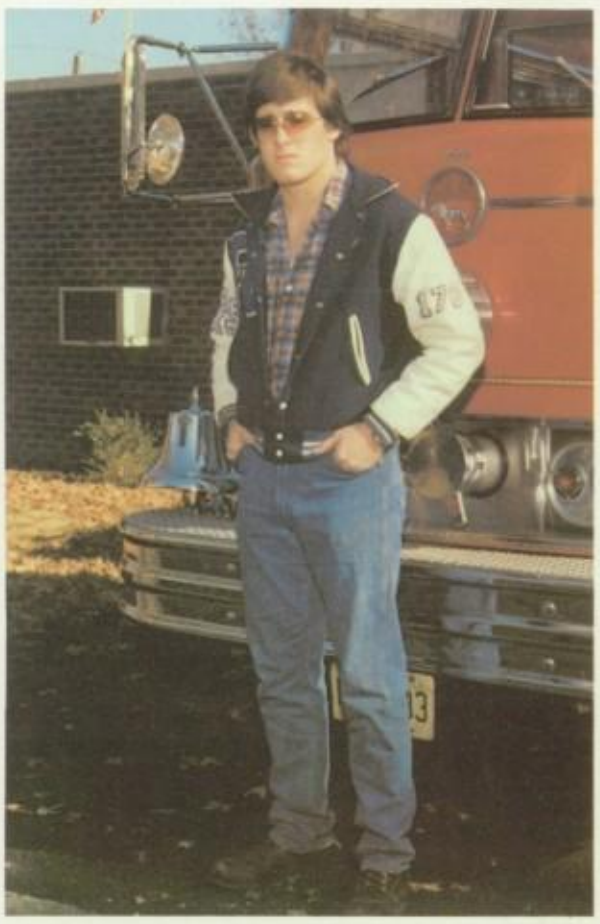
Did you take the picture yet?

Cruisin' in my automobile.

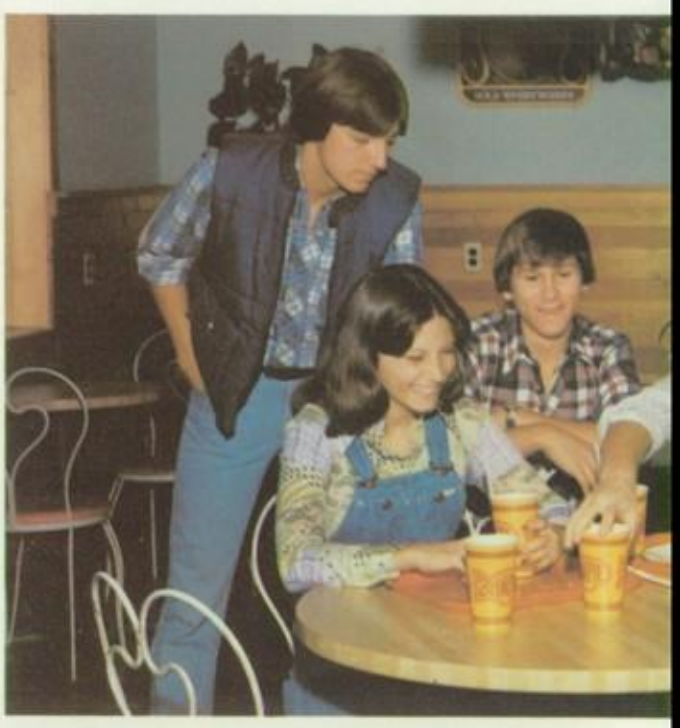
You Talking To Me?



The keys are in the car.



The Eminent Firefighter No. 1.



Now, how do I put her down?

Dancin'!

See! Steve will drive with me.

Don't worry. This one's on Blimpies.

I don't know what book I need.

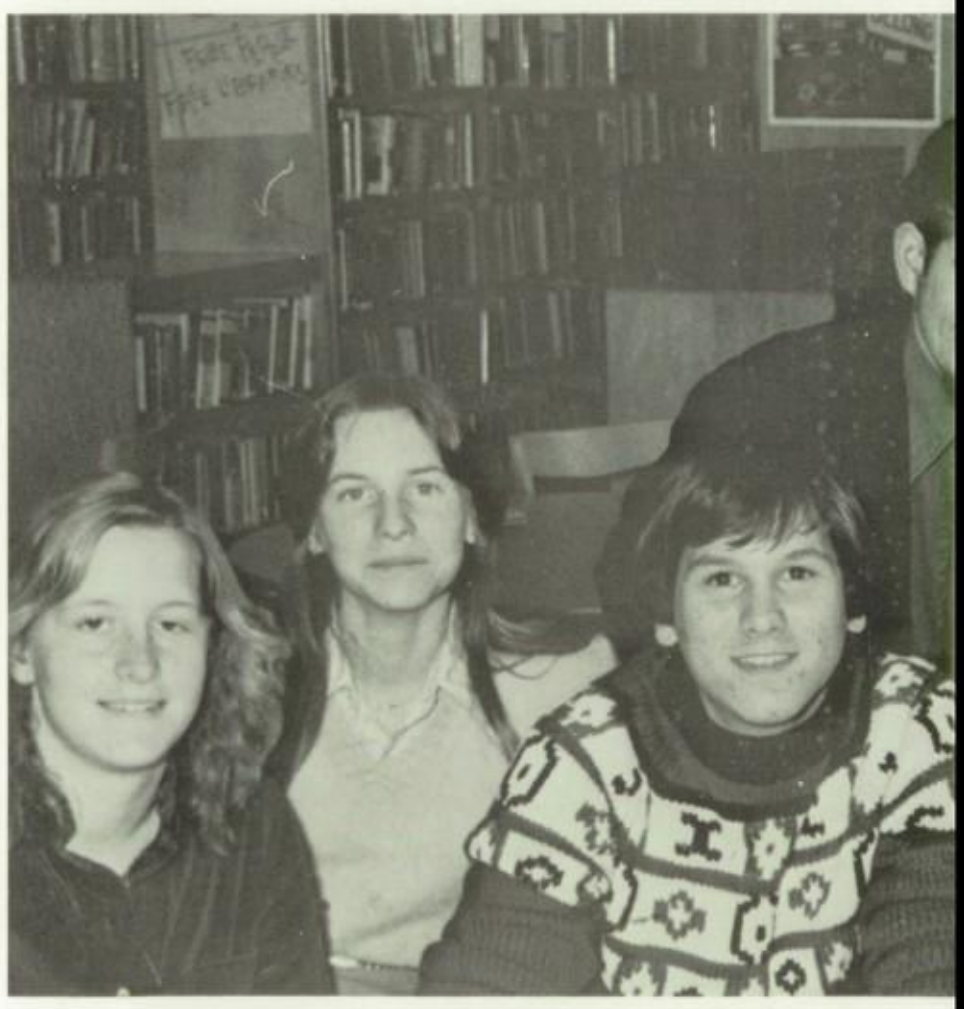
The Eminent Firefighter No. 2.

TILT!

We still love you, Mr. Bell!

Where's George!

So, you want my picture?



You heard it here first.

After four years, I still don't know my locker combination.

I'm not on football, so now, I'm a cheerleader!

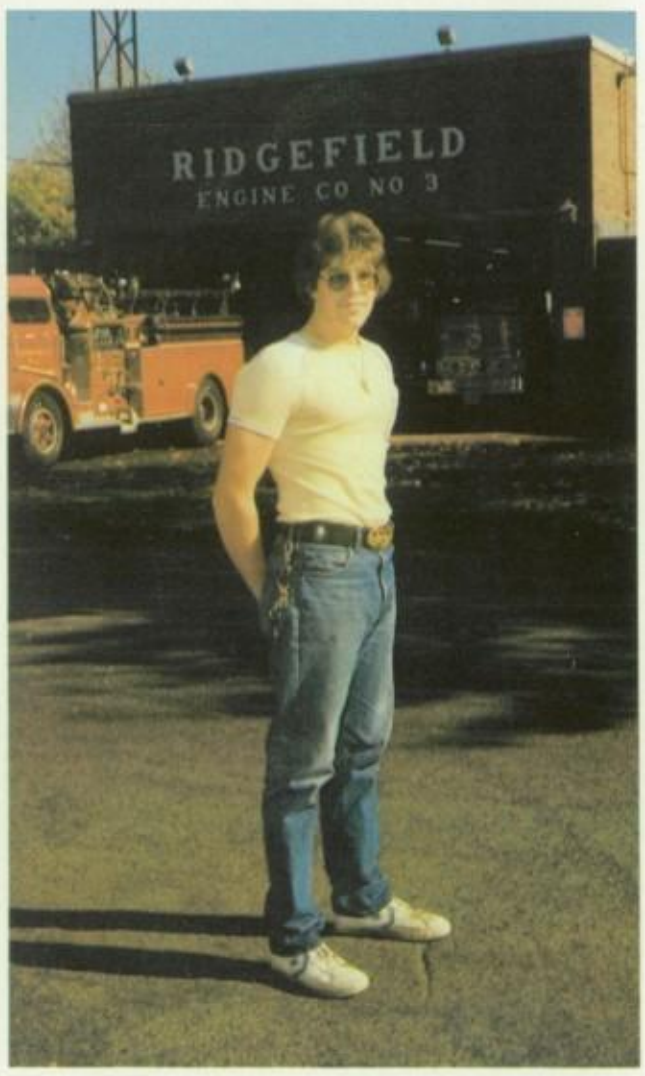
Ridgefield's Mount Rushmore.

See, I can run and throw at the same time.

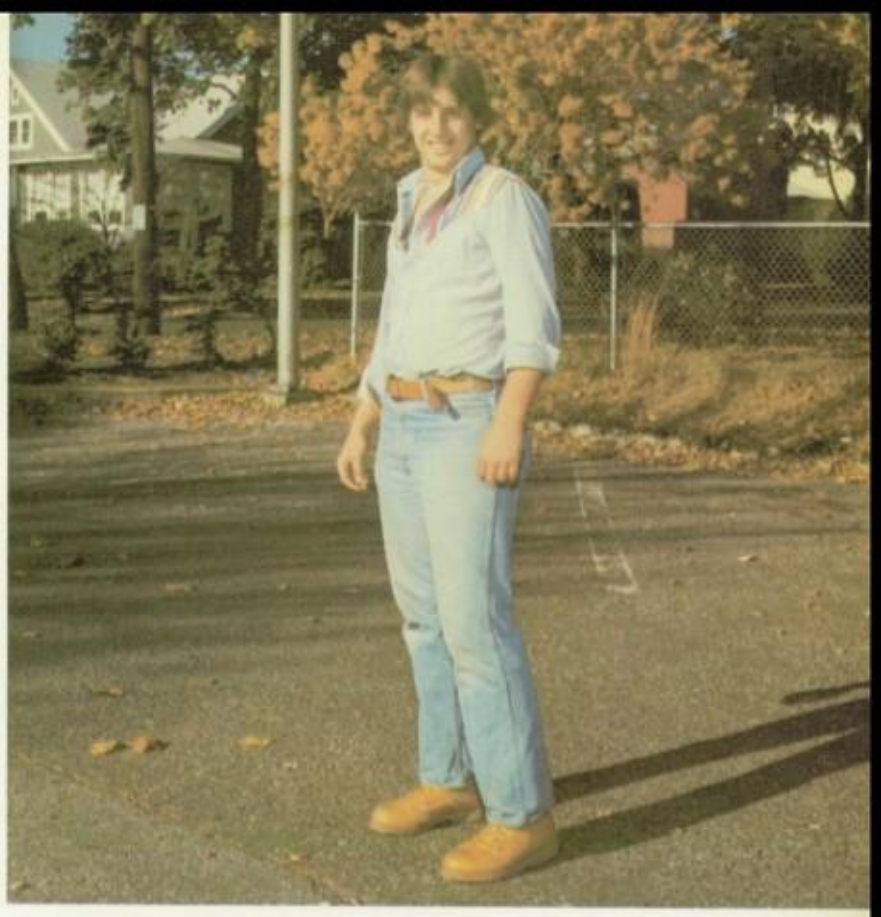
More cars to wash!

We have room for one more.

After you. No, After you. Please, I insist . . .



The Last of the Eminent Firefighters.



Is this my good side?

What truck?

Shall I lead?

I have a lot of homework.

Tori, you missed a spot.

Hold on. They're taking my picture.

I can see myself.

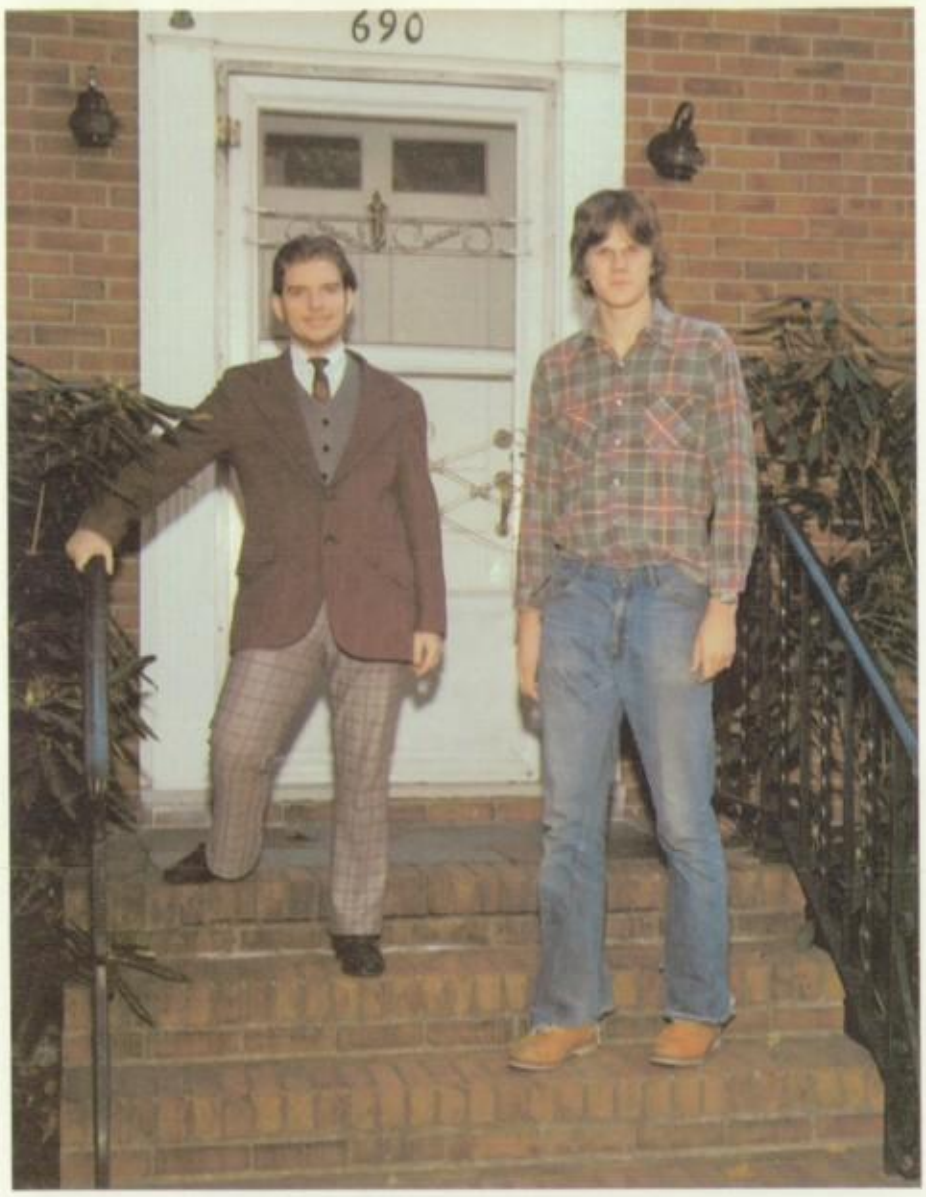
We never saw leaves like that.

Caught by the long arm of the law.

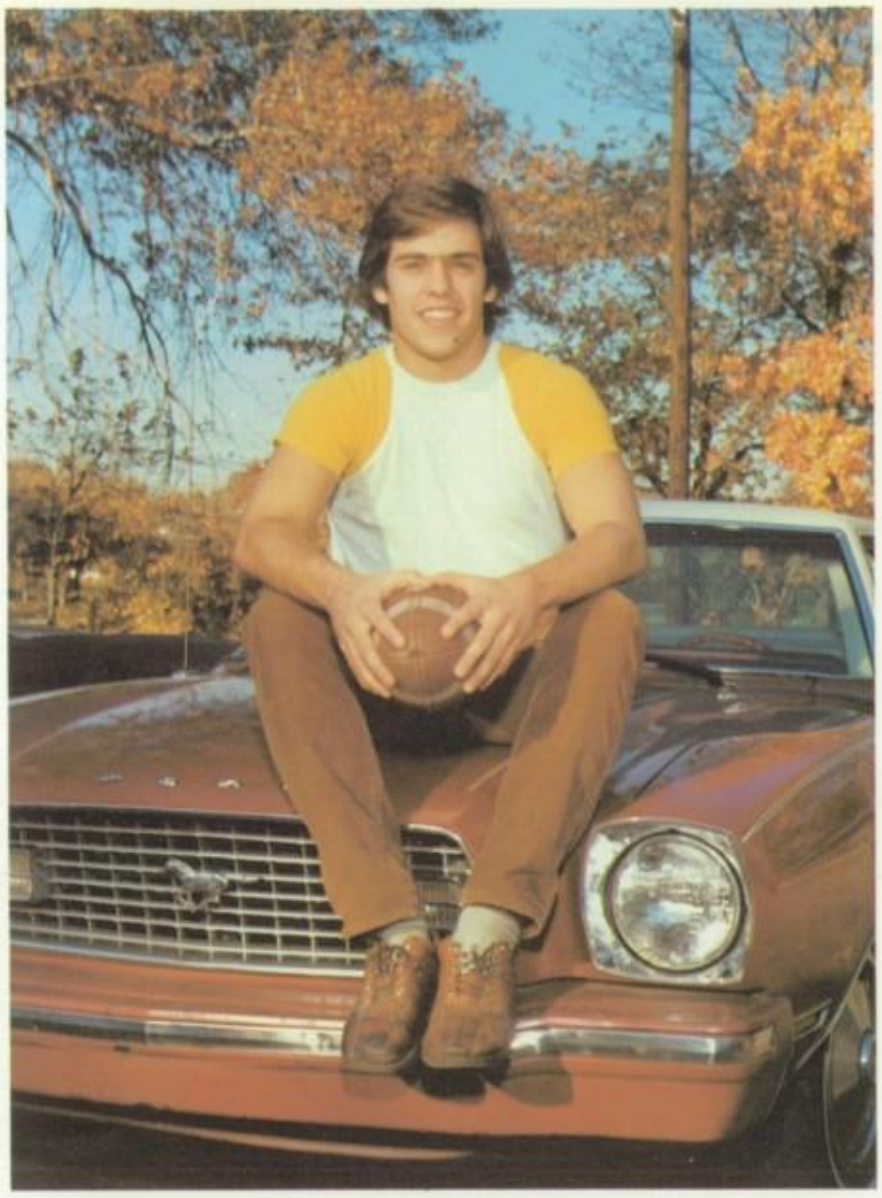
This time, I'll try to study.

My tooth is stuck!

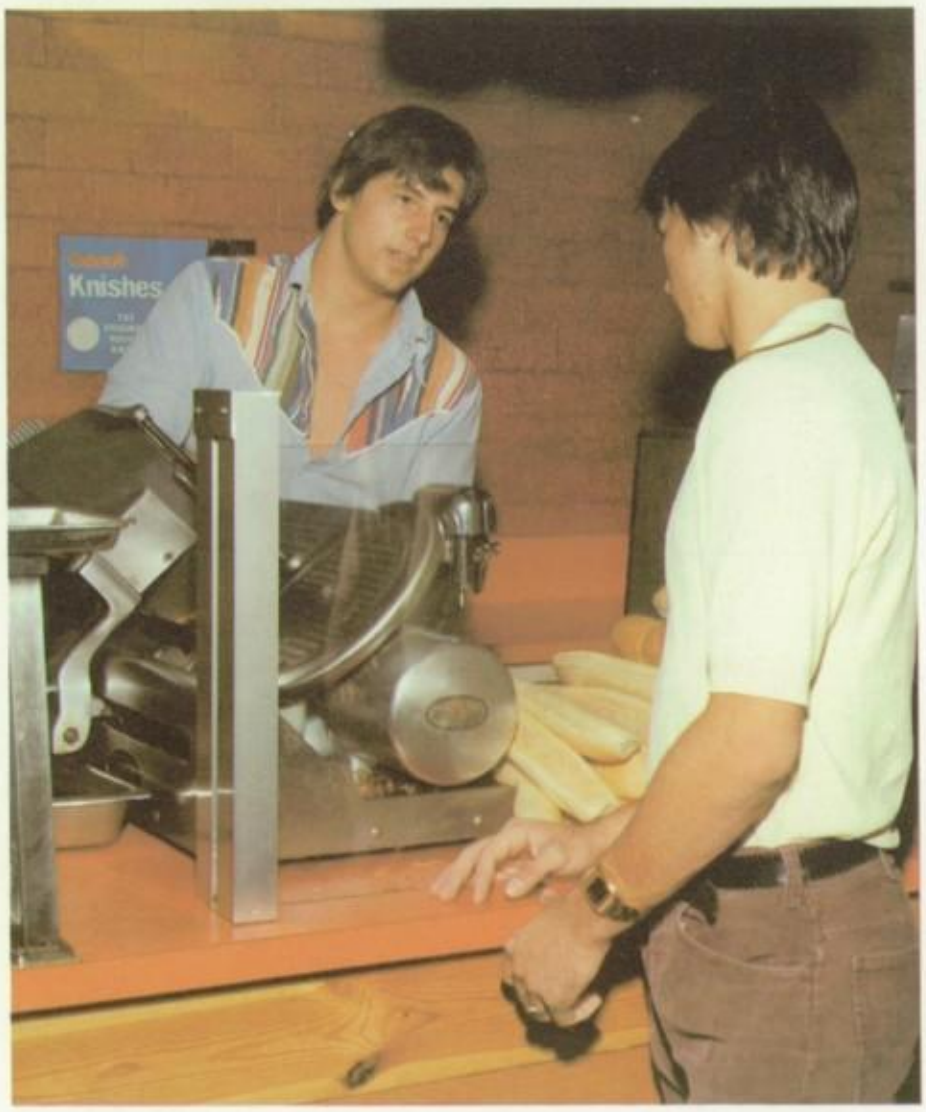
I'll scrub 'till it shines!



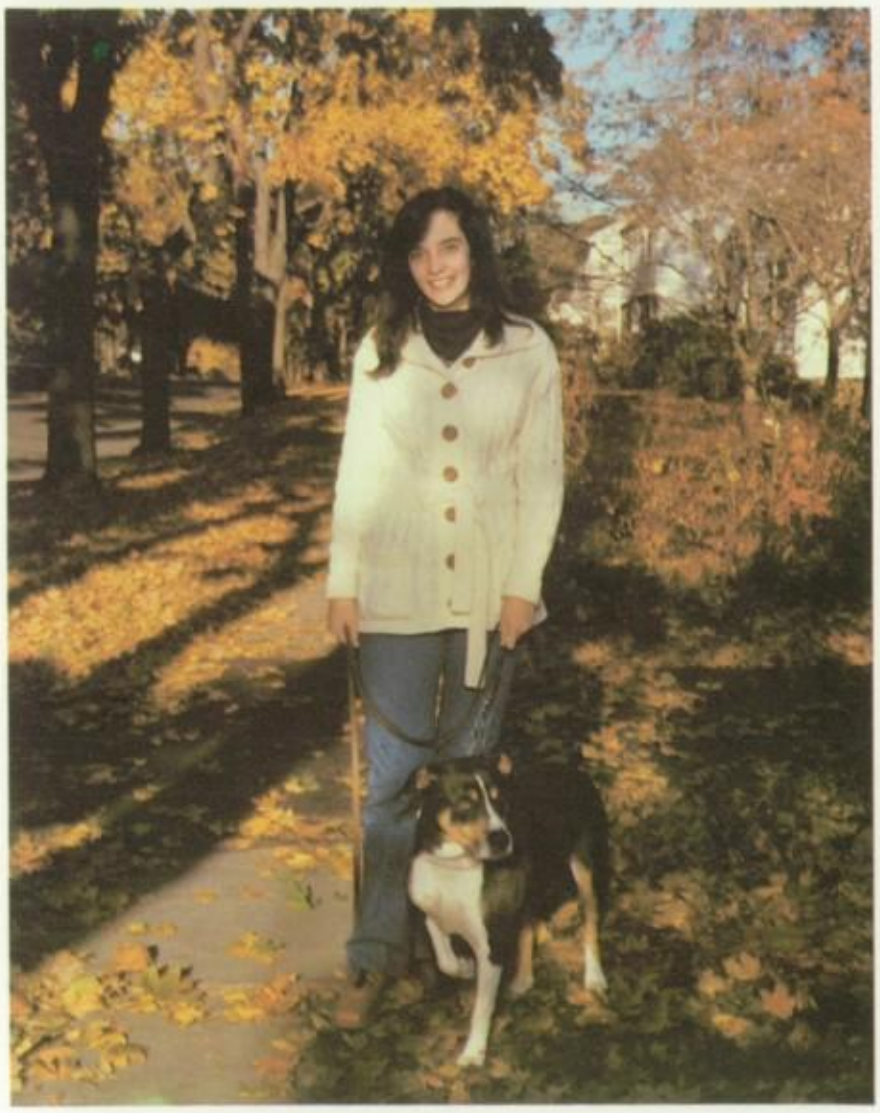
No Loitering!



I'll drive into the end zone.



You Want WHAT?



C'mon Sharon, we gotta go.
